

Tercel: An Ovek Story

Tercel gazed up at Zabgure from his perch, nestled among Its roots. The tree seemed to go up forever. Only if you could fly would you know that it stopped. Eventually. Tercel lived in the Mother Gerr, Zabgure, along with the majority of the Ovek in the world, excluding the few souls who ventured off to places unknown, or journeyed North to the Frontline. He shuddered thinking about the encroaching war with the Zana, the barbarous people who insisted on smiting down all of the Gerff, whose screams could be heard for miles. How could they not hear them?

A lone Ovek spiraled down next to him. “Where’ve you been? You’re missin’ out on the party,” he asked.

“I don’t git how you and the others can celebrate the Arj Larne, Jake, when they’re still Zana killin’ gerrf! They won’t stahp so we can celebrate.”

Matthias: A Zana Story

“Son,” his father had said, “Take care of your mother, and if I don’t come back—grow strong, and avenge me.”

Matthias watched as his father turned around, and, for the last time, saluted him. A single tear rolled down his cheek.

Fba: An Orvat Story

Fba woke.

In the beginning, there was nothing. Then there was Him. Fba was born in the heart of Fha, at the dawn of time, where he slumbered for an eternity. He awakened when his children needed him at their most dire times.

- Is Fba a God? Or an Alien?
- Alien is closer to what I was thinking, where Armonians would meet more Fba Beings in the Future.
- Orvat: Armonian for “Being” Name of Alien species?
- Fba from Fha? Or Terra?
